to spare the court and repetition of that evidence," said Mr. Codfrey in beginning his concluding argument.

"The question at issue is whether the defendant Wong slandered Mr. Rodger, and there has been a great mass of evidence on matters brought up to a large extent for the purpose of testing the credibility of the principal witness. It is not in issue whether Mr. Rodger ought to have had only the $10.000 or whether the Race Club clock was right or wrong. The issue to be kept in mind is whether Wong slandered Mr. Rodger.

No Dishonesty Claimed

"It is not a part of Wong's story that Mr. Rodger ever did anything dishonest. That question was never that we had not been a great in the action. He says that the representative was a special guest to the French aviation field and it was against international etiquette to ill-treat him. "It is not a part of Wong's story that Mr. Rodger ever did anything dishonest. That question was never raised. Wong sald most emphatically on croas-examination that it was not a question of honesty or dishonesty. Dut a question that he had been advised Mr. Rodger had sold his own share of the ticket and was only entitled to $10,000. There has been a good deal of attempt on the part of the plaintiff to point out that Wong has stated he was swindled but the evidence shows very, very clearly indeed that he newer made that statement. Some of the witnesses gave evidence that they had heard stories and rumors in verious places, and I understand Mr. Rodger to argue that he is entitled to say, on some authority he threatens to predore, that these stories must lave grown out of statements by Wong and that he is entitled to hold Wong responsible for them. I have not troubled to look up American authorities on that point for the simple reason that it cannot be so.

Berlin, Germany (via Amsterdam), December 1.—Baron von Ardenne, the military critic of the Berliner Tageblatt, recently drew an inferesting comparison between the strategy of Field Marshal von Hindenburg and that of Frederick the Great. Frederick, he wrote, is the general who, forced by circumstances to resort to a strategy of exhaustion, used the greatest energy within these limits to bring about battles. We have done the same and are still doing so. When it proved that really great decisions could not be attained, Frederick the Great, recommended, Instead of great battles, enterprises against detached forces. It is easier to destroy a detached body of 20,000 men than to defeat an army of 80,000. We may well compare the fact that our field marshal, instead of limiting himself entirely to the defensive, has delivered blows in the north, the east and southeast, the positive military success of which is increased by the ravival of confidence which has filled and elevated the German people. My tribute to him (Hindenburg) is that indence which has filled and elevated the German people. My tribute to him (Hindenburg) is that I praise him as a strategist who has exercised the art taught him by tradition, but at the same time has developed it. How often does the creative in the world's history revive what is lone past and fill it with new life. Luther became Luther because he revived the teachings of St Augustine. Hindenburg will one day be given his place in the history of war because he will be recognised as the man who revived the strategy of Frederick the Great.

Germans Busy In World-Wide Plot

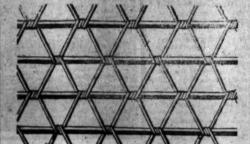

Washington, D. C., December s.—
Information revealing the extent of misrepresentation employed by Germany in an effort to inflame public opinion against the United States in neutral as well as hostile countries is reaching Washington. The propagandists have been especially active in Switzerland and Sweden and important newspapers in each country have been used for the spread of anti-American doctrine.

One of the principal reports to sir up feeling in Switzerland is that an American army will pass through that country in the spring of 1913. This report has been circulated generally through the country. Other

INQUEST HELD OVER OFFICERS OF POOCHI

Finding Of Bodies Described By Foreign And Chinese Officials

An inquest into the circumstance attending the deaths of Captain James Mackie and Chief Officer William Hetherington of the sunker before Coroner G. W. King of th British Supreme Court, Mr. King deceased officers died on January 5, 1918, from shock and exposure cold water, as a result of a collision between the steamers Poochl and Hsinfung in the South Channel, beween Middle Ground and the South East Buoy. Inspector Mellows of the River Police and the secretary of the Wen-chow Guild gave evidence as to the recovery of the bodies by drag boats recovery of the bodies by drag boats employed by the Wenchow Guild. The body of Mr. Hetherington, according to Mr. Mellows, was, following its recovery, covered with silk floss which was tied on with silk ribbons in the Chinese style and properly dressed up with the necessary articles of ciothing, being all provided by the Wenchow Guild.

The Coroner said that the Chinese authorities appear to have acted so.

The Coroner said that the Chinese authorities appear to have acted so well in the matter that he thought their courtesy should be duly acknowledged. He also ordered the return of the clothing provided for the deceased, Inspector Mellows added that he thought that the Chinese would have done the same thing to the body of Captain Mackie if they had the time.

A pak of gold cuff-links engraved "True till death, H., 28/8/10," recovered on the body of Mr. Hetherington, were given to Mrs. Hetherington, were given to Mrs.

Captain Mackie's body was identi-fied yesterday morning by Mr. Scott, the only surviving foreigner of the vessel. The funeral services for the Captain were held at the Bubbling Well Cemetery yesterday afternoon.

One day the Pope issues peace-proposals and the next day German answers them by burning down th St. Quentin Cathedral.—New Yor World.

There is no justice in a peace which proposes that the villain shall come out of the war with as much applause as the hero.—Columbus Dispatch

A food bonus—double rations for six weeks—is the German Government's latest way of encouraging just-married couples; at the end of six weeks the material, like the sentimental, honeymoon is over, and the bride and groom return to turnips.—New York Evening Post.

Piano Lessons Given In Public Schools

mediate charge of Miss Annie M. In the high school, credit is given Johnston, assistant music supervisor. The children take lessons once a week in classes of four, each pupil having in classes of four, each pupil having the classes who have no plane at home or who cannot obtain the use of a neighbor's instrument, are allowed to use the school pianos for practice, each child being assigned his regular practice period and paying a small fee. The children in the classes are from six to 14 years of age.

Besides the plane classes, there are public schools might have opportunity

Besides the piano classes, there are after-achool violin classes, which were organised three years ago and have been taught by Mr. Charles Wheeler. How Do You Say---In French

Me old pal, Donohue.

He's over there across the sea
With all the gang in Company B—I wrote; "I'm sending you a box of dainties, Donohue!
I'm sending you some sweets," I said;
"Some ham; some doo-dads for your bed."

I got an answer back today;

"Never mind the jam:
Never mind the ham.
Never mind the doo-dads
For me bood-war's in a trench.
But here's a task for you—Please ask," says Donohue,
"How do I say, 'I love you'
In French?"

"I met her in Bordeaux," says he, Me old pal, Donohue. "And over here across the sea No speak the Irish much," says

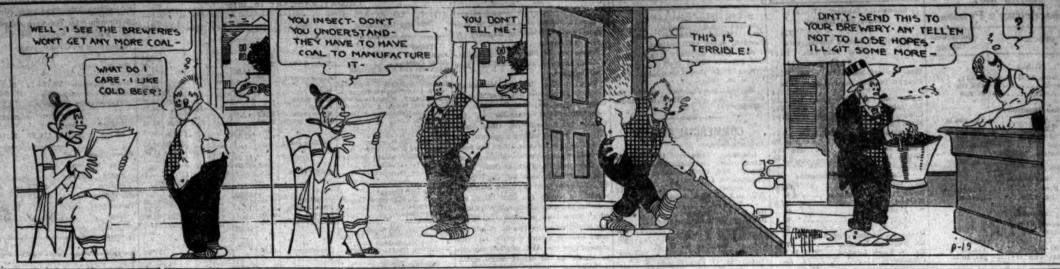

"Never mind the jam;
Never mind the ham.
How can I use doo-dads
When me bood-war's in a trench?
This is the job for you—
Find out," says Donohue,
"How do I say I love you'
In French?"

he—
"I understand her signs," says he,
"but do not parlay-voo.
So hustle around this very night,
Father Duffy will set you right—
Borrow a book from him
And send it on to Donohue!"

The Order of St. Michael and St. George, of which the Prince of Wales is now grand master, is not an ancient foundation, but it is peculiarly an imperial one, in the best sense of that word. The Gyder of St. Michael existed originally for the Ionian Islands, and that of St. George was founded for Malta, in 1818. Later, the two were united. 1818. Later, the two were united and their scope was extended so as to become an Order for the British Ascension has not yet quite recovered from the surprise which it felt at the fall of rain and the growth of grass on its surface this year. Ascension, the geographies tell you, is formed of extinct volcanic cones, and volcanic rock is not hospitable to stray grass seed. The island, too, has a minimum of rain in ordinary years, but 1917 saw both abundant rain and a crop of strange.

tall grass. Kew. on being appealed to be read the riddle, identified the grass as the kind that grows in many parts of desert Africa, and suggested that the southeast wind, or the sooty tern, a frequenter of the island, might be held responsible for the advent of the grass seed.
Whatever the cause, Ascension which already has a Green Mountain, and an abundance of green turtles, had also green grass this year.

The wording of war posters in the United States has not, to say the lesst, always been happy. For example, many contemptuous things have been said about the slacker, when, if the law were administered properly, there should have been no slackers. Young men who are simply awaiting their call under the draft, and who have excellent reasons for awaiting it, do not like shoes. Perhaps, in the interest of perfectly willing to respond when labor economy, it might be well if called should not be charged with own shoes, but this is not saying that blacking one's own shoes is not work. There are great numbers of people who would rather do almost anything else, and who believe firming that the bootblack earns his wage. Baltimore seems to have become a trifle too Bolshevichesky in this matter.

Messrs. Wheelock and Co., in their report for week eading January 12 write as follows:

There was no issue of our Circula a fortnight ago owing to the New Year holidays.

The situation in our Homewar Freight market has not altered at a since writing on the December 2—the dearth of steamers on the London berth continues, these beint only one British salling a month;—thew York, via Panama there has been no sailing since the as. Matoppo let only boat on this berth is an N. Y. K. steamer leaving Yokohama early in naturally been quiet since last writing on December 20 and there is not much for various reasons the chief of which are the tightness of the money-market are the tightness of the money-market which always occurs on the approach of China New Year—the very heavy stocks now accumulated in Shanghal—they have reached the "Record" figure of over three lakhs of tons!—and reduced deliveries due to the stoppage of the working of the Silk Filatures brought about by the high rate of exchange now ruling which makes it prohibitive for America to buy China silk at present prices.

All these factors combined have tended to keep the market extremely quiet, in fact, native dealers seem to be unable to come up to the prices at present required by sellers.

Fushun Coal:—No change, arrivals very limited.

Kaiping Coal:—Very little change has taken place since last writing. Deliveries are being maintained under contract which monopolises all avallable tonnage. Stocks are much below the average and the demand for Lump and better grades exceeds the supply.

GEN. HAIG'S REPORT ON CENTRAL POWERS SEEK CAMBRAI IS APPROVED TO UNDERMINE SERVIANS

figher Command Not Surprised Bulgarians Attempt To Frater-By German Attack, Is Finding Of Inquiry

(Reuter's Agency War Service) London, January 15.—In the louse of Commons today Mr. an inquiry by Sir Douglas Haig, the Imperial General Staff and the War Cabinet, the Government considered that the Higher Command was not surprised by the German attack at Cambrai on November 30 and that were made to meet it.

the shortage of food, high prices Haig instituted an inquiry into this attack before he received instrucions to do so from the War Office; that his report was examined by a mittee of the Imperial General Staff, with General Sir William Robertson presiding, and that the report of the Imperial General Staff was examined by a Committee of the War Cabinet and subsequently by the War Cabinet itself.

The War Cabinet considered that public discussion of the breakdown which undoubtedly had occurred would be very detrimental to public interests and they were satisfied that proper measures had been taken to deal with similar situations in future.

ARE REASONABLE I do not regulate my charges by the amount of the patient's bank

I'do not regulate my charges by the amount of the patient's bank account, but maintain a fixed-scale of prices, charging all persons alike for similar work done in the same way. I make no claim to chesp dentistry, for cheap dentistry is expensive dentistry, If you purchase a hat and do not get your "money's worth," you have only wasted your money, whereas if you purchase cheap dentistry you not only wastey your money, whereas if you purchase cheap dentistry you not only wastey your money, why are to the probably receive scrious injury, possibly resulting in the impairment of the whole physical system.

Years ago I perceived the great evil of the inequality of dental charges. The best dentists charged too much, and the cheap dentists charged too much, and the cheap dentists charged too little. The former charged for professional and social prestige; the latter did not charge enough to pay for good materials and the time required for first-class work. To me a middle course seemed the only fair one, and I adopted it. I ask prices that permit a fair surgin of profit for honest, skilled service, but no fancy fees for style and social prestige.

If you do not think the above words borne out by my actions, you are welcome to call at any time and get my estimate for your own case, which will not entail you any ex-
